

The publishers of Chicago Magazine and Law & Politics recently named Reneé Koehler to its list of Illinois Super Lawyers.

Only five percent of the practicing lawyers in Illinois were named to the list of Illinois Super Lawyers. Reneé was selected for the list following a rigorous four-step selection process. After she was picked in a general survey of Illinois lawyers Reneé went through a Research Review, a Blue Ribbon Panel Review and a Final Selection Process. The entire process was designed to identify the best lawyers actually observed in action by the survey respondents.
